INTRODUCTION

Maj Theander
EIB Director General, Personnel

"A critical decade lies ahead for the European Union, at the forefront of global climate action and sustainability. For the time being, though, we are focusing on helping European economies overcome the aftermath of the COVID-19 outbreak and mitigate the economic consequences. The European Investment Bank plays a fundamental role in Europe’s capacity to lead in these areas. Now more than ever, we need to adapt swiftly to continue delivering in an unprecedented context. We can only do so by developing as an agile, flexible and innovative organisation that embeds a working culture where diverse talents thrive. The diversity of our staff is key to developing innovative ideas, ensuring a holistic view and benefiting from the full range of experiences and competencies."

As the EU bank, the European Investment Bank is committed to the European Union’s principle of “United in Diversity”.

This publication is the second in a series of annual reports on the implementation of the 2018-2021 Diversity and Inclusion Strategy. It gives an overview of the Bank’s significant progress towards its objectives up to the halfway point of the strategy’s implementation.
BACKGROUND AND CONTEXT

The European Investment Bank (EIB) 2018-2021 Diversity and Inclusion Strategy is built on three strategic pillars:

WE PROTECT

equal opportunities and the rights of all employees by ensuring that HR policies, procedures, guidelines and practices are inclusive and fully implemented – every employee is safeguarded against unequal treatment on the grounds of age, gender, sexual orientation, religion or belief, disability, or racial or ethnic origin.

WE CREATE IMPACT

by building an inclusive work environment that enriches team dynamics, builds on complementary competencies and unlocks individual drive, with the aim of enhancing decision-making, business results and organisational health.

in our existing and new employees to ensure that internal and external talent pools are diverse and that we achieve more diverse representation at every level.

PROGRESS TOWARDS KEY DIVERSITY TARGETS

We are monitoring our progress on diversity and inclusion through several indicators, some of which are highlighted below.

GENDER
Gender balance between our female and male employees continued to improve in 2019 as a direct result of active support for the recruitment and promotion of women to senior professional and managerial positions.

WOMEN AT MANAGEMENT, SENIOR OFFICER AND OFFICER LEVEL
At the end of 2019, women were represented as follows:
MEN AT SUPPORT STAFF LEVEL
The percentage of men employed in support functions (levels 1-3) remains at 9%, as in 2018. However, significant gains have been made in terms of recruitment, with men representing 21% of all support staff hired in 2019, up from only 7% in 2018 and close to the 25% annual recruitment target.

DISABILITY
Two people with declared disabilities were recruited in 2019 – the target is five per year.

INCLUSION
One important indicator of inclusion is staff retention. The EIB had a turnover rate of around 5% in 2019, considerably less than the financial services industry average.

Another important measure is staff perception. In the 2019 Staff Engagement Survey, 52% of staff members agreed that “The Bank truly values the diversity of its employees”. We aim for 75% agreement with this statement by 2021.

Overall recruitment dropped significantly in 2019, with new staff members hired by the EIB representing about 1% of the total workforce. Coupled with the Bank’s relatively low turnover rate, this has constrained efforts to diversify our talent, particularly at senior levels. To meet our diversity and inclusion targets in the remaining two years of the strategy, considerable efforts will be required across the Bank.
STRATEGIC PILLAR - PROTECT
Several key HR processes were revised in 2019 to mainstream diversity and inclusion across a wide range of policies and ensure full commitment to safeguarding against discrimination and promoting equal opportunities.

- We started organising online recruitment seminars (“jobinars”) to ensure our pool of applicants is more diverse, particularly targeting female talent. The jobinars were recorded and can be accessed on the jobs pages of our website (www.eib.org/en/about/careers/jobinars/index.htm).
- We carefully monitor gender in the performance appraisals of our staff. To this end, we have built in multiple checks and balances so we can recognise and reward those who have made significant contributions to the EIB’s mission. These checks ensure that we are able to identify and redress any effects that unconscious bias can have on the outcome of the performance evaluation.
- Directorates have continued to implement their diversity and inclusion action plans.

"Joining the EIB was one of the easiest decisions of my career. I have found a welcoming environment where everyone shares their own experiences, strengths and outlook. As part of my role assisting the EIB’s recruitment services, I regularly interact with colleagues from all over Europe.

The EIB is home to a multinational and inclusive culture. Half-Luxembourghish and half-French, I am proud of Luxembourg’s multicultural society. Working in a bank yet also an EU institution, I feel like I am contributing to the European Union’s mission to improve lives and be a global leader in addressing issues such as climate change."

Thomas Stock
EIB recruitment administrator, hired in 2019

STRATEGIC PILLAR - IMPACT
The focus of this pillar is to create a more diverse and inclusive work environment. To achieve this, we mainstreamed diversity and inclusion training in the Bank’s standard onboarding and annual training programmes for all staff and managers.

We also piloted a managerial training course on unconscious bias, which is being rolled out from 2020. We expect all EIB managers to be trained by end-2021. Recruiters equipped with the resources to assist managers in overcoming unconscious bias will also attend the training.
Working constantly towards becoming a centre of diversity and inclusion excellence, the Bank participated in several awareness-raising events and programmes in 2019:

- Leaders of Tomorrow Forum (LTF): The EIB joined the Luxembourg-based LTF as a founding member and is collaborating with like-minded organisations to improve gender balance at senior level.

- International Dual Career Network (IDCN): Since 2018, the EIB has been a founding member of IDCN in Luxembourg, offering support services to partners of EIB staff members, such as networking events and integration into Luxembourg, from both a professional and personal perspective.

- Ubuntu – The Multilateral Development Bank Forum on Diversity and Inclusion: Hosted by the Asian Development Bank, the event held in Manila offered multilateral development banks the opportunity to exchange best practices and progress on diversity and inclusion.

- UNDP Women: The relationship between the EIB and UNDP was intensified in 2019, reflecting growing recognition of the EIB’s efforts in diversity and mainstreaming of gender considerations in Bank operations.

- Visit by the Luxembourg Prime Minister Xavier Bettel: To celebrate the International Day Against Homophobia, Transphobia and Biphobia, the staff-led LGBT+ network organised an internal event where the Prime Minister spoke candidly about the importance of Luxembourg being an example of openness in Europe, and of EU institutions setting the global standard for diversity and inclusion.

- International Day of Persons with Disabilities: An internal event where keynote speakers discussed the need to recognise and accommodate ability in all forms. Employees also had an opportunity to have “lunch in the dark” and put themselves in the shoes of visually impaired people.
“Diversity is one of the keys to success! It is a source of inspiration, creativity and innovation – not only for business but also for Luxembourg society.”

Corinne Cahen
Luxembourg Minister for Family Affairs

CONNECTED WOMEN NETWORK
With some 760 members, both men and women, this staff-led network continues to thrive. Its ten events in 2019 included the third annual Woman For the Future Award, recognising inspiring efforts towards women’s empowerment, and the first honorary Man For the Future Award, recognising a role model in support of gender equality.

NOTHING ABOUT US WITHOUT US enAble is the EIB’s staff-led network for colleagues living with a disability, caring for a person with a disability, a chronic illness or special needs, and for all motivated and interested staff. In 2019, the network continued its work to raise awareness for disability rights and to support colleagues and their families.

VISIT BY THE LUXEMBOURG MINISTER FOR FAMILY AFFAIRS
Celebrating Luxembourg Diversity Day, the event highlighted how diversity positively affects our everyday lives and how we can all choose to embrace it and benefit from our differences, heritage and personal choices.
We need more women in top decision-making positions and faster progress in women’s economic empowerment around the world. That is why the EIB invests in projects that promote gender equality and give greater economic opportunities to women.

Emma Navarro
EIB Vice-President

I look forward to a more balanced gender representation in our institution in the years to come. The unconscious bias training that we launched in 2019 is only the beginning. I hope that all EIB managers will take advantage of this new initiative within the next two years, given the importance of diversity and inclusion at the EIB.

Thomas Östros
EIB Vice-President

STRATEGIC PILLAR - INVEST
We invest in talent to improve diversity across the Bank.

To extend our outreach and attract a diverse range of talent, we organised various career events. We particularly targeted women in technology, engineering and risk management. The EIB also attended various events, such as the Top Women Tech summit.

Our priority target audience for outreach activities also included nationals from some of the most under-represented EU countries at the EIB – Austria, Denmark, the Netherlands and Sweden.
FUTURE ACTIONS

We have several important milestones ahead in 2020. To deliver on our diversity and inclusion objectives, a series of key initiatives will be rolled out:

- OBTAINING the Economic Dividends for Gender Equality (EDGE) certification.

- CREATING a network of diversity and inclusion champions at staff and management level, establishing staff networks within directorates (e.g. EIB women in IT network) and participating in sector-specific professional networks.

- ADOPTING a “No woman, no panel” agreement.

- REVIEWING the EIB’s policies and resources and identifying missing elements to provide better support for staff with disabilities.

- CONTINUING the roll-out of unconscious bias training for all EIB managers (delivered online during the teleworking period following the COVID-19 outbreak) and providing a similar online training tool for all staff members.
