9th FEMIP Conference
30 May 2011 – Sheraton Casablanca Hotel & Towers

Programme

The Conference will be Chaired by Nazanine Moshiri, Presenter and Correspondent for Al Jazeera English.

Questions & Answers

Session 1 will focus on participants’ practical experience in structuring PPP’s in their respective countries, providing real life examples and drawing conclusions from such case studies. During this session, participants will also be invited to provide their views on the impact of recent transformations in the region on certain PPP prospects.

Session 2 will discuss legal & institutional frameworks critical for a successful PPP and Mediterranean partner countries are faced with several dilemmas: how to ensure an institutional framework that is flexible and effective; how to provide such institutions with adequate capacity to follow-up PPP; what is the optimal PPP programme and pipeline of projects for each country; does the legal framework provide clear guiding principles; are dispute resolution and arbitration provisions adequate; how to ensure there is a clear procurement process; and how to design contracts that best allocate risks amongst partners.

This session will address various challenges for PPP financing: fostering the development of local financial markets, encouraging support from international financial institutions to supplement domestic and foreign commercial bank funding, ensuring the most adequate payment mechanisms in terms appropriate to the type of project; efficient distribution of financial risks and providing adequate guarantees and security in project finance investments.
