1.1 Introduction

a) The European Investment Bank (hereinafter the “the EIB” or “the Bank”) as the European Union’s financing institution is, in its dealings with external providers, committed to respecting the fundamental EU principles regarding public procurement, such as the principles of equal treatment, non-discrimination and transparency. The Bank considers that, as a general rule, these principles can be best implemented by competition among qualified tenderers and by a selection based both on cost and quality considerations.

b) Accordingly, in full respect of the tasks and activities assigned to it by the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, the Bank acts in principle in accordance with Community law on public procurement, in particular the directives dealing with public procurement, as amended from time to time.

c) Even though these directives are not applicable as such to the EIB, they provide an appropriate reference of establishing the Bank’s procedures and for this reason the Management Committee decided on 07 July 20041 that “the principles and procedures developed at EU level in respect of public procurement shall be followed by the Bank, subject to certain adaptations”. Consequently the EIB based its rules on own account procurement on the directive 2004/18/EC which was valid at that time2.

d) Public procurement law at EU level was changed by the adoption of directive 2014/24/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 26 February 2014 on public procurement (hereinafter “the Directive”) which shall in future be the main legal basis, as amended from time to time, for EIB’s internal procurement. In response to these changes, the Bank adopted in 2016 the EIB’s “Corporate Procurement Guide”3.

e) As the Directive does not cover all aspects relevant for procurements managed by EIB, the provisions of the Directive are complemented by additional provisions, in particular concerning

i. procurements below thresholds,
ii. exclusion resulting from the specific situation of the EIB as a bank,

f) In addition to the aforesaid, the EIB will have regard to the case law of the EU Court of Justice interpreting the Directive, the Remedies Directive and the Concessions Directive as well as other best practices which might be relevant.

g) The above mentioned principles and procedures are incorporated in the present EIB’s Corporate & Technical Assistance Procurement Guide (hereinafter “the Guide”).

h) The purpose of the Guide is to set out the procedures to be followed by the EIB when procuring

- services, supplies, works and concessions for its own account, as well as
- technical assistance services4 provided by external service providers inside or outside the EU under third party mandates.

These procedures apply also every time that the Bank is involved in the procurement irrespective of whether it pays for the value of the relevant services, supplies works or concessions or not, unless the EIB has satisfied itself that in the procurement of the said services, supplies or works an acceptable level of fair competition is guaranteed.

4 Pursuant to Article 18(7) of the EIB Statute, as a complement to its lending activity, EIB may provide technical assistance services in accordance with the terms and conditions set out by its Board of Governors, in compliance with its Statute. They form an integral part of the EIB Group’s Lending, Blending, and Advising strategy. Such technical assistance services, also called “advisory services” include all expert advice and expertise-based tasks delivered by the EIB Group and, when necessary, by external service providers managed by staff of the EIB Group.
i) The Bank is aware of the increased possibilities offered by the Directive in terms of new purchasing techniques and electronic procurement and it intends, to the extent possible, to promote the use of them.

j) The Guide is designed to provide general information on procurement procedures managed by EIB and it does not address specific terms and conditions of any particular contract that the Bank may conclude.

k) For the avoidance of doubt, the Guide does not cover procurement for EIB-financed projects. The Bank’s policy, the applicable legal framework and the arrangements to be made by promoters and borrowers for procuring required services, supplies and works for such projects are explained in the EIB Guide to Procurement, available on the Bank’s website.

l) The EIB’s Management Committee approved this Guide on 19 July 20175 whereby the entry into force and period of effectiveness shall be as defined in point 9.1.

1.2 Interpretation

a) As the Directive is addressed to EU Member States not all of its provisions are relevant for procurements managed by EIB. For ease of reference, the Guide refers to and, if necessary supplements all relevant articles of the Directive that shall be directly applicable. This however shall not prevent the EIB from having recourse to those articles not referred to in this Guide (e.g. for interpretation purposes) after this Guide entered into force.

b) If the Guide makes reference to articles without stating the legal source it shall be deemed to be referring to the Directive [point 1.1 d]). References made to other legal sources, which are nevertheless important for the proper functioning of EIB Procurement, will be explicitly named.

c) All references to articles/annexes of the Directive are to be taken to be made to the article/annex including any amendments (i.e. dynamic references).

d) If the referenced articles/annexes of the Directive make use of the below terms they shall have in the context of the Guide the following meaning:

<thead>
<tr>
<th>Terminology used in the Directive</th>
<th>Meaning in the Guide</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Contracting authority(ies)</td>
<td>Means the EIB which may comprise other entities in case of joint procurement such as the European Investment Fund (“EIF”).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Member State</td>
<td>Means the EIB when the Directive specifically authorises Member States to permit or interdict something. In other cases the meaning Member States remains unchanged (to be verified on a case by case basis).</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>National law</td>
<td>Shall mean any set of internal rules of the EIB.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cross-references between Articles of the Directive</td>
<td>Such references shall be deemed to be made to the corresponding provision (if any) inclusive of any modifications made by the Guide (for example, references in the Directive to Article 4, threshold amounts shall be read as being made to point 2.4.)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

e) The Guide also sets out additional provisions [as indicated in points 1.1 e]) beyond the ones stemming directly from the Directive which are nevertheless necessary for ensuring that EIB’s Corporate & Technical Assistance procurement regime is not only compliant with the principles and procedures developed at EU level in respect of public procurement, but also fit for purpose for EIB’s needs.

In such cases, the Bank may decide to opt for a different procedure. In doing so, however, and in keeping with the overriding concern for best value for money, the award of such contracts will be effected following an appropriate market analysis and in accordance with the fundamental principles of equal treatment and transparency. In deciding whether alternatives are available on acceptable terms, the Bank takes account of its objective needs and performance standards, in relation to the scope and nature of the contract to be awarded. Market analysis in this regard must not be confused with preliminary market consultation as per point 4.1.
2.6.5.2 A market analysis may be, irrespective of the contract value, the type of contract, the number of candidates and the availability of alternatives, conducted in the following ways:
   a) Passive desk research, or

In addition, the EIB may use the negotiated procedure regardless of the estimated value of the contract, in case of services provided by an international organisation where it cannot participate in competitive procedures according to its statute or act of establishment.

2.16 Joint Procurement

The EIB recognises the principle of joint procurement as foreseen in Article 38 and will make use of it as follows:

a) Where a contract is of interest to the EIB, the EIF or similar entities established by the EIB after the Guide entered into force and whenever there is a possibility for realising efficiency gains, the EIB and the EIF or similar entities may seek to carry out the procurement procedure on a joint basis.

b) Where a contract is for the EIB’s own account and necessary for the implementation of a joint operation between the EIB and one or more contracting authorities from EU-Member States, EEA States, EFTA States, EU candidate countries or third countries, the procurement procedure may be carried out jointly by the EIB and the contracting authorities. Where the share pertaining to or managed by the aforesaid contracting authority of the total estimated value of the contract is equal or above 50%, or in other duly justified cases, the EIB may decide that the procedural rules applicable to the contracting authority shall apply, provided they apply standards which offer adequate equivalence to internationally accepted standards, especially relating to transparency, non-discrimination and prevention of conflicts of interest.

c) The EIB and the contracting authorities concerned by the joint procurement procedure shall agree in particular upon the practical modalities for the evaluation of requests for participation or the tenders, the award of the contract, the law applicable to the contract and the competent court for hearing disputes.
2.17 Interinstitutional Procurement

a) Whenever a procurement procedure for a contract is carried out by an EU-Institution as listed in Article 13 of the Treaty on European Union which is in the interest of the EIB and if the EIB is invited by the EU-Institution it may decide to participate in such interinstitutional procurement. If such EU-Institution asks to be remunerated for the provisions of its purchasing activities, the EIB may award a service contract without applying the procedures provided for in this Guide.

The procurement documents shall clearly state whether a firm, non-revisable price must be quoted. If that is not the case, the procurement documents shall lay down the conditions and/or formulae for revision of prices during the lifetime of the contract. 7.1.3.2 Such procedures shall be at least sufficient to ensure compliance with the principles of transparency and equal treatment of economic operators.

7.1.3.3 In particular, where, in accordance with point 7.1.2, a contract notice or prior information notice has been published in relation to a given procurement, the EIB shall, except in the circumstances mentioned in point 7.1.3.4, conduct the procurement, and award any resulting Annex XIV contract, in conformity with the information contained in the notice regarding:

a) conditions for participation,

c) the award procedure to be applied.

7.1.3.4 The EIB may, however, conduct the procurement, and award any resulting Annex XIV contract, in a way which is not in conformity with that information, but only if all the following conditions are met:

a) the failure to conform does not, in the particular circumstances, amount to a breach of the principles of transparency and equal treatment of economic operators;

b) the EIB has, before proceeding in reliance on sub-paragraph a)

i. given due consideration to the matter,

ii. concluded that sub-paragraph (a) is applicable,

iii. documented that conclusion and the reasons for it in a note to the file, and

7.1.3.5 In point 7.1.3.4 (b)(iv), “participants” means any economic operators which have responded to the notice and have not been informed by the EIB that they are no longer under consideration for the award of an Annex XIV contract within the scope of the procurement concerned.

7.1.3.6 All time limits imposed on economic operators for the purposes of point 7.1, whether for responding to a contract notice or taking any other steps in the relevant procedure, shall be reasonable and proportionate.

However, even taking into consideration the principle of proportionality, modifications to contracts below thresholds may not alter their overall nature. Where several successive modifications are made, the aggregated value must not exceed 50% of the value of the original contract.

7.4.2 Direct negotiation

Works, supplies and services contracts with a very low value of less than EUR 50 000, may be awarded on the basis of a single tender following a negotiated procedure without prior publication of a contract notice.

7.4.3.3 If, following consultation of the candidates, the EIB receives only one tender that is administratively and technically valid and meets the award criteria, the contract may be awarded to this tenderer.
7.4.4 Other procurement procedures below thresholds

The EIB may use for awarding contracts not exceeding the thresholds stated in points 2.4.1 and 2.4.2 any other procurement procedure for awarding contracts below thresholds by analogy provided they are foreseen in the applicable financial/procurement regimes of other EU-Institutions as per Article 13 of the Treaty on European Union, irrespective of the actual thresholds applied by these EU-Institutions.
